English Sports Gamble on the Postponement of the Date.

SET FOR AUGUST 9

Official Reports Say Crowning of King Will Take Place as Scheduled.

IS GETTING BETTER

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) London, July 28.—Talk of the postponement of the coronation from August 9 to a later date has again set the betting circles in motion and odds are laid against the coronation on that date. It is also said that King Edward is not improving as well as has been expected and the talk of a second operation has caused much anxiety as to his real condition.

Reports Say Better. Despite the rumors to the contrary, the reports from Cowes show that the King is steadily improving and that the wound is healing as well as could be expected. The doctors report satisfactory progress and claim that the sea air has greatly benefited his Majesty.

Crowned in Chair. Reports from official headquarters say that His Majesty is now able to use a new invalid chair that has been especially designed for him and that he is able to move himself about in it. It is also suggested that he is to be crowned in the chair, being too weak to stand during the ceremony.

Will Take Place. The St. James Gazette this morning publishes the following dispatch from Cowes: "We are authorized to state that there will be absolutely no postponement of the coronation."

Betting High. Betting that the coronation will not take place as scheduled is prevalent at the Lloyd's offices and large sums of money are being laid on the chances. Many Americans are staying over until after August 9th in the hopes that they may see some of the coronation performances.

BELOIT MAN NOT SERIOUSLY HURT

Stone, Who Was Reported Killed by Tramps, Only Badly Cut Up.

Beloit, Wis., July 28.—Fred Stone, the twenty year old Beloit boy, of whom it was reported that he was near the point of death, as the result of being set upon by seven tramps on Friday night and slashed to pieces with knives, was walking about the city today after receiving the injuries and gives every promise of a speedy recovery.

Stone refused to give the name of the person who assaulted him, but he stated that the cuts were inflicted by only one person. The gashes were four in number, two on each side of the face and thirty-two stitches were required to make everything ship-shape. A fourth of an inch more on one side and the jugular vein would have been severed by that quarter of an inch saved the boy from serious injury.

Arrested Women. Two women, one of them colored, have been arrested for implication in the affair, but no additional facts have been secured bearing upon the case. It is believed that Stone brought the trouble upon himself in a quarrel with one of the women. The affair took place near the state line, not far from the site of the notorious Illinois house which was recently torn down to make way for the interurban station.

INFORMATION IS HARD TO OBTAIN

Data on Porto Rico for Government Report Is Delayed by Law

Washington, D. C., July 28.—(Special.)—The radical defect in the law applying civil government to Porto Rico will be corrected during the coming session of congress. Considerable delay in the transaction of the business of the island has resulted from the failure of congress to place it under one of the executive departments in Washington. The law relating to the island requires the governor to report directly to the president, and such communications as he chooses to send are forwarded through the state department.

Data Scarce. The secretary of state has not, however, the power to collect and file data in his department regarding affairs in Porto Rico. Senator Foraker, who had much to do with framing the law under which the civil government was extended to the dependency, desired information relating to the island. He was referred by the state department to the war department, and by the war department to the state department, and it was finally suggested that he might learn what he desired to know through the brother of Gov. Hunt, who is the chief of one of the bureaus of the state department.

As to each sacrifice is dedicated one or more holidays, which must be passed by him in complete solitude, his time is pretty well taken up. These sacrifices are made by the Emperor either by night or about dawn, and the houses along the route taken by him, as he is carried in his closed palanquin through the deserted streets of the city, are hung with black.

NAVAL OFFICERS BECOMING SCARCE

Civilians May Be Employed to Teach the Middies the Three R's.

Annapolis, July 28.—(Special.)—Scarcity of officers of the navy has caused Rear Admiral Taylor, chief of the bureau of navigation, to determine to insert in his forthcoming annual report a recommendation that congress authorize the employment of civilians as professors of certain branches of instruction at the naval academy. This will be a return to the system observed some years ago, which was abandoned because it was found that commissioned officers forced the cadets to apply themselves more to their work. Rear Admiral Taylor is impelled to make this recommendation, however, because the fourth class at the Academy during the coming winter will number more than 200 boys, and the present force of instructors will not be able to handle them.

Need Civilians. Until authority is obtained to employ civilians, additional officers must be assigned to the academy. Rear Admiral Taylor is experiencing difficulty in finding suitable officers in view of the desire of Secretary Moody to place as many ships as possible in commission and to limit the work of the naval offices to that which is strictly naval.

STATE POLITICS ARE BOILING

Both Parties Are Confident They Will Win Out.

BUT NO BOLTING

Republicans Wait for Bryan's Reply to Winkler's Questions.

DEMOCRATIC TALK

Milwaukee, Wis., July 28.—Reports of a decided Republican slump in Dodge county and claims by the Democratic managers of from four to five thousand has caused comment and much uneasiness at the Republican headquarters. Reports, also coming in from the northern portion of the state show that indications point very heavily towards a cutting of the head of the ticket.

These reports and the rumor that the fight for the democratic nomination lies between Rose of Milwaukee and Burr Jones of Madison, both strong men with large followings add to the uneasiness felt. The talk of a land slide in Dodge county is disapproved by the Republicans in charge of affairs there and in Milwaukee. They claim that while there may be a few cuts of the republican state ticket, that it will not be a landslide.

Vilas' Letter. Ex-Senator Vilas' letter is still the subject of much comment. Its hidden purport is explained by the silver democracy following as a direct bid for the United States senatorship. They are not inclined to help a man who deserted his party at a critical period and do not think he should be so honored even though the party has itself repudiated the principles that were obnoxious to Vilas.

Winkler's Letter. General Winkler's letter still continues to absorb the republican press throughout the state. The consensus of opinion points to the fact that the General has asked some pointed and almost unanswerable questions of General Bryant and much interest is felt by the voters and politicians as to where they will stand in the fight is Bryant cannot satisfactorily explain and answer them.

Democratic Plans. The democrats of the state are having sessions at all points to decide upon a suitable slate to be presented at the coming convention. Thus far except for the head of the ticket, few names have been presented. Democrats seem to be most interested in the governorship and are letting the other offices go to who wants them.

There he lived for some years a slave to a Chinese planter, and finally came to California as a fugitive. Topoka, Kan., July 23.—Heavy rains are falling over Kansas, and grain men, farmers, and the railroads look forward to a crop of 200,000,000 bushels of corn. ## WOMAN'S MUSCLES.

What She Can Do With Them When They Are Developed.

How Charles Reade would glory in the physical strength and activity of a certain Oregon family of sisters! It was a favorite theory of his that the muscles of a woman's body below her waist are stronger than those of a man, and the feats of the Walker sisters show that at least in the mysteries of cutting out a steer and lassoing a wild horse a girl cowboy is as expert as a man when she has been initiated. There are eight of these Oregon sisters who do a man's so-called work upon a wild, rough range.

The young women are employed on the range belonging to their father, a man distinguished for his high character. They have been in the saddle ever since they were old enough to bestride a steed, for dear lady and gentleman, these fine girls ride astride and have always done so. No woman rides any other way in that mountainous region, where narrow trails edge dizzy precipices and a horse must jump like a rabbit over bank and boulder. And, besides, how could a woman ride upon a giddy steed and rope a steer?

When one of the Misses Walker needs a new horse, her pa does not go to the training stable and select it for her, examining every point to see that it is perfectly suited and warranted safe and gentle. The girl springs upon a horse she has already broken, and away she gallops into the midst of the wild herd bearing her father's brand. She looks at them till she finds one that suits her fancy; then she lassoes it unerringly, brings it to the ground and breaks it in like a rough rider in the wild west show. It shorts insanely, struggles and bucks frantically; but it bucks against fate, for the young lady is its master. When it was a wild colt a year old, this same girl or one of her sisters lassoed it, threw it and helped to brand it. Woman's weakness has been effectually developed out of her by the brave, free bringing up the Oregon sisters have had.

In addition to their other accomplishments, they are unerring rifle shots and carry gun and blanket with them when in the saddle. Woman's cowardice has here also been eliminated, and the woman is all the better for it. She will love her children just as devotedly when she has them and will be all the better able to take care of them.

At one of the state agricultural schools woman is proving that she is physically strong enough to take on herself the farmwork that it has been supposed hitherto only men could do. Girls at this school are being trained not only to manage farms, but actually to perform with their hands the labor. At any time in the season young lady students may be seen plowing, harrowing, planting, sowing and reaping and doing all scientifically under the eye of a professor. A woman may not perhaps as yet be able to throw a stone, but she undoubtedly has proved she can cut a straight furrow with the plow. What is more, when the young lady student has done her stint at plowing or harrowing she must unharness her horse, feed, water, halter, stall him and curry him. No detail is omitted that will accomplish her as a practical farmer, and every one of the girl students has proved she has the physical strength to stand up to her work; also that this strength increases with the exercise of it; also that it is wholly compatible with perfect womanly refinement and gentleness.

The young ladies who are graduated from this agricultural school will be prepared to take entire charge of a country place as farm superintendents. The course of instruction also includes dairying, live stock raising and horticulture.

In fruit culture and dairying there is certainly a promising field for women skilled in the practical knowledge of them. It can no longer be said that a woman has not strength to do farmwork, especially the lighter kinds, when she is proving that she is equal even to the heavier part. On the abandoned little rocky farms of New England, which are near to a good market, thousands of dissatisfied dependent women might today be earning a noble living at dairying, poultry rearing and fruit and flower culture.

How the Country is Governed.

At a dinner at the Republican club in New York the other evening, Gen. Horace Porter, American ambassador to France, explained how this country is governed. The people across the Atlantic, he said, didn't understand it; but it is perfectly simple. "The daughters govern the mothers, and the mothers govern the fathers, and the fathers govern the country."

ABSOLUTE FAITH.

You can depend upon the word of this Janesville Citizen.

He has had the experience. He has thoroughly tested the article.

He has found it as represented.

He has absolute faith in its merit.

Mr. L. Lawrence, of 408 S Franklin st., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co., says:

"Seven years ago I injured my back by falling through a bridge near Afton, into the Rock River. I was on a traction engine, its weight broke through, and the whole thing went into the stream. Since that time my back has ached by spells, sometimes very severely. If I caught cold it settled in my kidneys and if I brought a strain on my back lifting, the result was a bad backache and sharp twinges of pain in my loins. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's drug store and after I used them I was free from backache. I am in better health than at any time since falling through the bridge."

Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Tetters and Acne

Belong to that class of inflammatory and disfiguring skin eruptions that cause more genuine bodily discomfort and worry than all other known diseases. The impurities or sediments which collect in the system because of poor digestion, inactive kidneys and other organs of elimination are taken up by the blood, saturating the system with acid poisons and fluids that ooze out through the glands and pores of the skin, producing an indescribable itching and burning, and "I can cheerfully endorse your S. S. S. as a cure for Eczema. I was troubled with it for 25 years and tried many remedies with no good effects, but after using a few bottles of S. S. S. was entirely relieved." Wm. Campbell, 318 W. Central St., Wichita, Kan.

of the poison may cause the skin to crack and bleed, or give it a scaly, fishy appearance; again the eruptions may consist of innumerable blackheads and pimples or hard, red bumps upon the face. Purification of the blood is the only remedy for these vicious skin diseases. Washes and powders can only hide for a time the glaring blemishes. S. S. S. eradicates all poisonous accumulations, antidotes the Uric and other acids, and restores the blood to its wonted purity, and stimulates and revitalizes the sluggish organs, and the impurities pass off through the natural channels and relieve the skin. S. S. S. is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier. It contains no Arsenic, Potash or other harmful mineral. Write us about your case and our physicians will advise without charge. We have a handsomely illustrated book on skin diseases, which will be sent free to all who wish it. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

THE KEY NOTE

General Winkler, the Nestor in Wisconsin Republican politics, has voiced the sentiments of the true Republicans of the state in his now famous letter. He has told General Bryant in plain words, that he nor others of his ilk can read him out of the Republican party, because he will not sanction the platform adopted by the state convention, made up of careless, heedless boys, infatuated with a willow the wisp fantasy of the greatness of one man.

General Winkler speaks from his heart and from no selfish motive. He is not looking for political preferment. He is not a candidate for any political office, nor would he accept one were it offered. He speaks from his heart for the cause he loves and for which he fights. He is a true patriot, a true Republican. Because he does not believe all the doctrines of the Republican platform, he does not mean to surrender his rights or claim to Republicanism as his doctrine. He may not support the ticket, but he will not work against it.

General Winkler voices the sentiments of many Republicans. Republicans who have fought in many a bitter fight in bygone days. Men who have stood shoulder to shoulder with Matt. Carpenter, Angus Cameron, Philletus Sawyer and are now supporting John C. Spooner. These men are the substantial Republicans of Wisconsin. Men who are not led by a willow-the-wisp chase after the pot of gold of nursery days. To them the planks of the state platform are as bitter gall. They can not swallow the taste of populism and one manism that prevades the whole dish. To these men General Winkler's letter is balm to a slow healing wound.

The letter is in answer to General Bryant's letter which practically reads men like Winkler, like Spooner, like two-thirds of the prominent Republicans of the state out of the party that the power of the one man may be more supreme. Questions are asked that cannot be answered easily. Questions that mean that either the Republican party is Republican or it is not. General Bryant, Col. Murphy and even Governor La Follette will have work extricating themselves from the predicament that the Bryant letter has placed them in. They will have to spend the rest of the summer explaining or, better still, keep quiet and admit the truth of Winkler's statement.

The funny old Journal at Madison prints an editorial from the Free Press. Then comments:

Judge Ryan would today be called a "populist as Gov. La Follette is for daring to say that the greatest danger menacing Republican institutions today is the same power whose "signs and shocking omens" have passed the prophetic stage—Milwaukee Free Press.

Chief Justice Ryan said it once, near the end of a long career. Governor La Follette says it very often. Chief Justice Ryan said it, with no goal of favor to be attained, as a sober caution to his fellows, in his old age.

Evidently the state joke realizes where it now stands and is trying to get in out of the rain. Wonder if it means La Follette is a populist? Sounds like it. Don't it?

A St. Louis physician was fined for swearing at a telephone girl. Whether the girl was slow as some that answer calls or whether she was sassy and told the hurried doctor to hold his horses and "keep his shirt on," is not said. The doctor was fined anyway. Madison had a similar case some days ago only the "hello" girl switched the swearer onto the police station and the would-be desperado over a phone called the police officer all kinds of pet names meant for the fair telephonist. Funny was it not?

Brother Wilder of the State Journal says funny things: Things that when you see the point and inconsistency of you laugh at. He says: "The Governor says he does not treasure one personal injury. No, we are the fellows who got hit with the club."

Think of that. The State Journal

got hit with a club. Why the Journal was Bob's strongest supporter all last year. Now he goes and hits poor Wilder. Now Bob you ought to stop.

New England has another mine discovery. The barren coast of our Pilgrim Fathers has discovered nearly every known kind of metals since the Mayflower landed the old boys on Plymouth Rock nearly three centuries ago, yet none of them have ever amounted to anything thus far.

Here is the chance to use Aguinaldo to an advantage. The Sultan of Bundayan is held as a hostage. If Aggie went to him and told him all the benefits of civilization he might be content and not pine for his forty wives and cool palm trees and fat pigs.

Manila has a board of health that purposes to turn the hose on the foul quarters of that city and clean them out. Evidently the chief of the board has been reading Greek mythology and has heard of Hercules and his success with the Augean stables.

Chicago messenger boys have gone on a strike. They saw their elders did so and yelled seab at the men who worked and so they did the same thing. It has been great fun for the boys and great inconvenience for the business men.

Hayti is in an open civil war revolt. The official announcement has been sent forth and all the country holds its breath to see if any horse, cow, or dog is hurt. That is about the list of casualties that usually occur in Latin warfare.

Your Uncle Russell was not trying to save five cents by standing up on the New York street car when he was thrown off. He damaged his $3.92 suit though and that hurt him more than his fall.

Convict Tracy has eaten another hearty meal and been shaved again. Say, Tracy must be fat and hearty at the present time and has he not had a variety of cooking? Bet none of it tasted as that "Mother used to do".

The $100,000,000 newspaper trust does not seem to be prospering very well. The average country editor does not want to trade his space for money, he wants cord wood or potatoes or something he can use.

J. J. Hill's son has invented a new fangled freight car and as his father is interested in several jerkwater railroads running from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts he may have a chance to try its qualities.

Captain Strong says that he will try and redeem his good name. He starts out well by being in a low London music hall with two questionable women and spending money like a "drunken sailor."

The Czar of Russia is as inquisitive as old Peter The Great, one of his fore-fathers. He wants to know all about cotton seed oil so he can introduce the manufacture into Russia.

Delay in repairing the Milwaukee street bridge has placed the street car company in a bad boat. They have one car on the tracks on the other side and the rest are back on the Main street side.

Ping pong sets are valuable to a household in that the tired mother can secure the help of her daughters in clearing the table so that they may play the game.

PRESS COMMENT

Milwaukee Journal: The man who saw a phantom ship at Marinette, may have encountered the boat that bears the political prospects of Mr. Isaac Stephenson.

Cleveland Leader: Members of congress who opposed the things which the President favored, have returned home to learn that the country is with the President.

Eau Claire Telegram: "Hold fast a good man as long as you can." is a commonsense principle with every-day business men. The same rule should apply to the retention of able men in public life.

Cleveland Leader: Vilas of Wisconsin points to the smoking mills and factories and exclaims: "See the ruin which protection has brought to this country." Vilas is a funny man.

Sheboygan Telegram: The "paramount duty" of all good citizens from now on is to see that members of the legislature are elected who are "unqualifiedly" for the return of Senator Spooner to the United States senate. Wisconsin must stand by her greatest son. Wipe out the Madison disgrace.

Fond du Lac Reporter: Mrs. Carrie Nation found that she had run up against the real thing when she struck Oshkosh, as the bill of fare which she took up in ordering her supper at the Athearn Hotel, contained a wine list. The blue smoke which issued from that room for a few minutes made even that staid old warhorse, Gabe Bonck, tremble.

Madison Journal: Of course, no one can get a nomination for the assembly in Dane county who is not an avowed John C. Spooner man. The senator's attitude on the Torrens system of Mr. Pickwick's theory of Tithebats cuts no figure. Irrespec-ive of the voters' attitude toward Governor LaFollette, the senator's home county will endorse him the full length.

Buffalo Express: Lieutenant Perry has been balked three times on his expedition in trying to make his way to the Pole. In 1899 one of his feet was frozen; in 1900 he was stopped by open water and last year the condition of his two companions and his dogs obliged him to abandon the effort. It can only be hoped that the effort he was to make last spring was successful. If it was not, the explorer will probably remain another year in the North.

Philadelphia Record: In 1891 the Democratic legislature in Wisconsin elected William F. Vilas to succeed John C. Spooner in the United States senate. In 1897 Mr. Spooner in turn was elected by a Republican legislature to succeed Mr. Vilas. Who knows but what the whirlwind of politics may not again make Mr. Vilas a successor of Senator Spooner? But with either Vilas or Spooner, Wisconsin will be ably represented in the senate.

Cleveland Leader: Friends of Mr. Bryan cannot help but observe that the Democrats who could not vote their ticket in 1896 are becoming conspicuous and vociferous at this juncture. The bolters are willing to let the past bury its dead, but are the old sixteen-to-ones willing to let the dead rise from their graves and run things?

Chicago Tribune: In recent years it has not been customary for cabinet officers to take an active speaking part in off year campaigns. At an early day they did. The custom is a good one and it is well that it is to be revived. The people always listen with interest to what the men at the head of the great departments of the government have to say concerning their management of departmental affairs—that is, of the people's affairs.

Boston Herald: Mr. Vilas of Wisconsin, whose opinion upon the political situation appeared in print yesterday, is one of the ablest Democrats of the West. He reasons rather than appeals with political claptrap in what he says. His remarks may not so easily captivate public attention as would be the case if they were less solid in their character, but they are those of a thoughtful man, who has had experience in public life in varied capacities.

Milwaukee Journal: What amazes us is the impudence of the LaFollette Stephenson newspapers that pretend that Spooner could have the support of the administration, no matter what the terms. If there is any man in this whole state of Wisconsin who thinks the slaughter of Spooner is not the primary object of the political combination now on top, let him sit down by himself and ask this question: "Has Your Uncle Isaac been spending his thousand upon thousands the past eighteen months to insure tax reform and primary election reform?"

Chicago Chronicle: The historical fact appears to be that about one-third of the Republican voters of Wisconsin are habitual bolters. They do not all bolt at the same time nor for the same cause. In some cases, as in the national election of 1875, when Washburn bolted Carpenter, the regulars of the previous election became the bolters. In other instances the bolters of the previous campaign became regulars in the pending election.

With one-third of his party in open or secret revolt, Governor LaFollette may expect a similar experience this year.

Washington Post: An attempt is being made out in Wisconsin to galvanize ex-Pekmaster General Vilas into political life. He has been very quiet for a number of years, but now he is out in a long and apparently carefully prepared interview. His reappearance upon the stage is due to a desire on the part of some of the Wisconsin Democrats to nominate him for governor against LaFollette. Mr. Vilas in his interview, outlines the issue upon which he thinks the Democrats ought to make their fight. Of course, it is the tariff. He was too long in the shadow of Cleveland not to be a tariff reformer of the most ardent stripe, and he wants to hark back to the Cleveland days of tariff revision and reform. It certainly would be a strange chapter in political history if Mr. Vilas should be nominated upon a free trade platform in Wisconsin. The memory of 1893 would be invoked by the Republicans on every stump throughout the state.

Asnland Press: Its failure to endorse Senator John C. Spooner and the despicable attempt to shelve one of Wisconsin's most honored sons, has brought down upon the head of the Madison convention such a torrent of indignation and adverse criticism as but few political gatherings of recent years have elicited. Not only have the prominent thinkers and press of the immediate state been unanimous in their condemnation of the course pursued by the Republican convention, but men of national affairs as well express extreme regret at the attempted knifing of one of the foremost United States Republican senators.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The venerable chairman of the Republican state central committee has seen fit to issue an address to explain the turning down of Senator Spooner, but he does not seem to know that the party is in greater danger of getting smirched through the use of money in the Harvey case. A leading manager of the Republican party in Milwaukee confessed in the presence of ex-Speaker Buckstaff, J. H. Stout and W. H. Flett, that he had received $2,000 in cash from the book agents for the purpose of defeating L. D. Harvey. He also confessed that he had used the money for campaign purposes and that if Harvey was defeated, he could get $10,000 more for the same purpose from the same source. Will General Bryant allow such serious charges against the good name of the Republican party to go uninvestigated and unchallenged? Does he not see that the reputation of the governor and all the candidates is at stake?

Deceased was two months old and had never been well. She was the only child.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. T. W. McVety; the song service being rendered by Miss Forrest Horrell and Leroy Wharton. Many beautiful flowers told of the sympathy of friends. Miss Viola Root, of this city, sister of Mrs. Drummond, was present at the funeral.

Mr. Walter Rice, alderman from the 1st ward, Janesville, is willing to state that Dr. Richards, dentist, actually does what is said of him, namely Painless Dentistry. He recently called upon him and tried his new painless method whereby the nerves of his face were actually put to sleep, so that he absolutely felt no pain whatever.

Since Dr. Richards moved into his new offices over Hall, Sayles & Fife's Jewelry store, he has made a specialty of doing painless dentistry and is building up a tremendous practice by his skillful effort along this line.

At first he plead not guilty but finally when he found that he would have to go to jail for four days while waiting for a trial he withdrew his plea and plead guilty. ## INTER URBAN'S COMPLETE SHOP

BELOIT POWER HOUSE A MODEL PLACE.

ONLY WAITING FOR THE CARS

Delay Due to Various Causes, Still Keeps the Road Idle.

As week after week has gone by each has brought the news that the cars on the Interurban between Beloit and Rockford would be running the next and still the cars have yet to make their first trip over the line. Delay in the construction of the track failure to secure the cars at the appointed time, and a small fire in the temporary quarters of the cars have all joined hands in delaying traffic on this line, and to this date the first cars belonging to the company have yet to be run. On one occasion, several weeks ago, an excursion was using cars belonging to the Rockford-Belvidere line, but no regular cars have yet been taken over the road.

Attractive Power House

The power house at Beloit has drawn great throngs of sight seers, and from the floor of the basement to the smoke stack, one of the three or four highest in the state, it has called forth universal praise. The most ignorant observer can feel that the structure is imposing from an architectural standpoint, while the experienced engineer or machinist is in raptures over the machinery which has been installed. There are three large boilers which experts pronounce of unsurpassed workmanship, and the dynamos and other apparatus for the generation of the electric current are of the highest grade. The entire building is put together on a large scale in all its details than was generally looked for.

Iron Car Barn

The iron framework for the car barns has been erected, and the work of sheathing the building will be pushed to completion this week. The building covers a ground area of about forty by one hundred and twenty-five feet and has three tracks running the length of the building. Considerable damage was done to the structure by a lightning bolt which struck it last week, but the repairs have been completed on the damaged portion.

Along the Road

On the road between Beloit and this city the grading work has been nearly completed since the work near the gravel beds at Atton bridge was concluded. The bridge under the railroad track a couple of miles nearer Beloit was completed at about the same time. Track has been laid from Fourth street in Beloit about four miles in this direction, while from the Janesville end of the line the rails have not yet passed the cut, by the Choate-Hollister factory.

GUESTS ARE MADE INTO SCULPTORS

UNIQUE AFTERNOON LUNCHEON

Society Women Mould Animals Out of Chewing Gum at Mrs. Dunwiddle's Home.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. B. F. Dunwiddle entertained about sixty of her lady friends in a novel manner at her home, 165 Madison street. Originally marked the entertainment, even the floral decorations being unusual. Gladiolas of choice variety and rare coloring were the predominant flower and the tall stems covered with beautiful blossoms made a most effective and pleasing decoration.

Invitations were issued for three o'clock and Mrs. Dunwiddle was assisted in receiving her guests, Master Allan Dunwiddle meeting them at the door.

Novel Game
Instead of the customary cards or guessing games a unique form of entertainment was introduced. Each guest was provided with a square red card, a stick of white chewing gum, a tooth pick and a slip of paper containing the name of an animal. These animals were to be modeled out of the gum and mounted on the card with the aid of the toothpick.

Funny Animals
The artistic efforts of the guests occasioned much amusement and the resulting sculpture brought into evidence some peculiar looking animals. Some of the models were excellent, however, and by the vote of the guests the prize for the best work was awarded to Miss Mabel Doty, of Austin, Ill., for a very realistic buffalo.

Delicious Luncheon
The three course luncheon which followed the contest was also a departure from the customary refreshments. The menu included several decided novelties and the delicious products of culinary skill together with the uniquely pretty and refreshing service were a source of satisfaction to both the sense of taste and of sight. Mrs. Dunwiddle was assisted in serving by Mesdames J. P. Baker, T. W. Goldin and L. L. Leslie and the Mesdames Flo Dunwiddle, Edith Loomis, Sue Lowell, Mary Stevens and Elizabeth Palmer.

HAS TOO MANY WIVES LIVING

A. W. RUSH, ARCHITECT FOR CITY HALL, UNDER ARREST.

IS CHARGED WITH BIGAMY

He is Said to Have a Wife in Chicago and One in Grand Rapids.

The Chicago Sunday papers have the following concerning A. W. Rush the architect of the new city hall and it would look as if he had succeeded in getting himself into serious trouble.

A. W. Rush, senior member of the firm of A. W. Rush & Co., architects in the Security building, was arrested last night at his home at 275 Erie street on a warrant charging him with bigamy with abandonment.

The warrant was sworn out before Justice Hamburger, by Mrs. Bessie Rush, who lives at McCoy's hotel and who says that she is the wife of Rush.

The latter told the police that he was not married to the woman and that the charge was a blackmailing scheme.

Is Arrested
Mr. Rush was taken to the Chicago avenue police station by Detectives Jackson and Garrigan, who served the warrant, shortly after ten o'clock. He was released on bail furnished a short time later, with his brother, E. A. Rush, 84 Cleveland avenue, as the principal surety. Rush declined to talk of his arrest.

Story Told
Later he told Sergeant Stifter that he had a wife and family in Grand Rapids and that by the time the case came up for a hearing he would have his wife in Chicago to confront his accuser and confound her.

Mrs. Bessie Rush when seen at McCoy's hotel declared that she married Rush seven years ago in Indianapolis and that they lived together for five years. She indignantly repudiated the statements of Rush that his arrest was a blackmailing scheme.

Too Much Worry
"I wouldn't have caused his arrest," she declared, "but he has not supported me in two years. It has worried me dreadfully. I used to weigh 150 pounds and now I weigh only 120 pounds and it's all caused by worrying over this matter."

"We were married in Indianapolis seven years ago. Mr. Rush's business takes him about the country a great deal and we traveled together all over the United States for five years. When we were in Chicago we lived at McCoy's hotel the most of the time."

Separated Two Years Ago.
"We separated two years ago and since then time and time again I have tried to effect a reconciliation, but in vain. I have often met him and written him but he would not return to me. I was compelled to have him arrested to make him support me."

MOBS POSSES PARIS STREETS

PRIEST ESCAPES A DUCKING

Police and Municipal Guards Have Much Trouble in Keeping the Unruly Throng on the Move—Women Join in the Demonstrations.

Paris, July 28.—Dense crowds of nationalists, socialists and clericals filled the Rue Royale, the Champs Elysees, and the Place de la Concorde Sunday and attempted to riot over the closing of the Catholic schools.

There were many fights and a number of priests were mobbed, one narrowly escaping a ducking in the Seine; but the mounted police held the big crowds in hand, keeping them constantly on the move, and the day ended without a serious encounter.

The crowd which gathered in the Place de la Concorde numbered 15,000 persons, while as many more thronged the Champs Elysees. The clerical and anti-clerical forces about equally divided the gatherings. The former were distinguishable by the red, white and blue paper flowers which they wore, while the latter sported red eglantines.

Keep Crowds Moving. Though many fights occurred, they never became general, nor was any person seriously injured. An imposing force of police and mounted municipal guard had much trouble in keeping the manifestants constantly moving and at times they were forced to charge to prevent the crowd becoming too dense.

On the whole, the crowds were good natured, and mainly confined themselves to shouting "Liberty! Liberty!" "Long live the sisters!" and "We want the sisters!" To which the anti-clericals replied: "Vive le republique!" and "Down with the priests!" The occasional appearance of a priest was a signal for much hooting and several fights were due to their presence.

Women Clash. A striking feature of the manifestations was the large number of women, many of them well dressed, who actively participated. Nor were these all clerical in their sympathies, for the anti-clerical women were also out in strong force and they occasionally made things lively for their clerical sisters, whom the police had some difficulty in protecting. In one instance a detachment of mounted guards had to rescue three well dressed women from the hands of a group of socialist women who were bent on mobbing them.

The clericals made several attempts to reach the Place Beauvau, on which the Elysee and the ministry of the interior are situated, but were prevented from doing so by strong cordons of police and municipal guards, which were stationed at all the approaches in order to prevent demonstrations in front of these buildings.

Turned Back by Police. The demonstrations culminated when a group of thirty women, some in carriages and some on foot, headed by Mmes. Rellie de Mun, Cibiel and de Pommeroy attempted to reach the ministry of the interior in order to present to Premier Combes a petition on behalf of the sisters. The police, however, refused to allow them to pass.

Subsequently the clericals made an angry rush on the cordon guarding the Avenue Gabrielle, and the soldiers had to use the butts of their guns to keep back the crowd. Another violent incident occurred on the Champs Elysees, where the crowd began throwing the small iron chairs bordering the sidewalks among the feet of the horses of the mounted guards. One horse fell, injuring its rider.

Dispersed by Rain. A number of prominent nationalists, including Deputies Milleraye and Auffray and several municipal councilors, were conspicuous in the crowd and were loudly cheered by their followers and hooted by the anti-clericals.

By 7 o'clock p. m. the crowd began to thin out, and an hour later the Place de la Concorde and the Champs Elysees had resumed their customary appearance. A light shower hastened the dispersal of the manifestants. About 100 arrests were made.

The fact that throughout the day vehicular traffic was not interrupted shows how well the police handled the great, unruly crowd with which they had to deal.

In Memory of J. W. Mackay. London, July 28.—A memorial service for John W. Mackay will be held at St. Mary's church in Cadogan place Tuesday. The body will not be taken to America until September, as Mrs. Mackay's health will not permit an earlier departure.

CARBOLIC ACID ENDS ROMANCE

FACTORY GIRL DIES FOR LOVE

When Informed That Her Wealthy Sweetheart Intended to Take an Automobile Trip and Never Return She Takes Her Life.

New Haven, Conn., July 28.—More has come to light about Alfred Austell, the Yale law school senior, who was the companion of Miss Etta Cook of this city, the girl who killed herself by taking carbolic acid in the Double Beach house on Friday night because Austell told her he was to leave for good in a few days.

Coroner Eli Mix, who investigated the case and who examined Austell, stated that there would be no arrests made. Austell told the story to the coroner of what happened between himself and Miss Cook before she committed suicide. They went to the Double Beach house, where they had often been before for a lark, and he said that Miss Cook was apparently in high spirits. Miss Cook had told some of her girl friends that she expected to marry Austell, but Austell will not admit that he gave any such impression to the girl.

Had Lived Together. Austell belongs to a rich and famous old family of Atlanta, Ga., and Miss Cook had been employed in a fireproof factory until six weeks ago. She gave up work at the request of Austell, with whom she had been intimate for a year. Since that time she had been much of the time at the Double Beach house with Austell, and for the past month they had lived there together.

Austell lavished money on the girl, gave her clothes and luncheons and dinners. All went well until Austell, who had received his degree from the Yale law school in June, began to think of going home to Atlanta, to settle down to the practice of law.

Prepares to Go Home. Austell made arrangements to start for home. He owns one of the biggest and fastest automobiles in the city and he had decided to make the 1,600-mile journey to Atlanta in his machine, traveling in easy stages and taking six weeks. When he told her on Friday night that he planned to leave town and that he would probably not return to New Haven, Miss Cook was very much upset over the news. She quickly found out that his plan practically cut her off from Austell's life for the future.

Friday after a day of unusual gaiety she and Austell went to their room about 8 in the evening. Austell threw himself across the bed and Miss Cook stepped into the dressing room, which opens out of the bedroom.

Hears a Groan. In an instant Austell heard a groan. He rushed to the room just in time to catch the girl, who fell dying into his arms. He recognized the fumes of carbolic acid. Hatless and coatless, he rushed downstairs and sprang into his auto. With full power on he dashed through the winding roads to Branford, obtained a physician and hurried back to the Double Beach house to find the girl dead.

Austell was frantic with grief. He implored Dr. Evans to bring the girl to life and then, suddenly remembering the scandal of it all, told Dr. Evans and Proprietor Clark of the Double Beach house not to spare any amount of money to hush the affair up. This was done for a time, but the coroner made the facts public.

LIGHTNING STRIKES CHILDREN

Bolt Runs From Tip of Umbrella and Burns Two.

Birmingham, Ala., July 28.—Annie Herndon, aged 16, and Willie Blair, a little boy, were struck by lightning. The latter's death is expected momentarily. Miss Herndon was carrying an umbrella, and the lightning struck the tip of the rod, passed down the handle, and severely burned her left side and leg. The shoe on her right foot was torn to shreds. She will recover.

Sisters Drown.

To See The Stars.

One of the alluring features of the pilgrimage of the Knights of Pythias of the United States and Canada to California during August will be the trip to the famous Lick Observatory on Mount Hamilton. The big telescope there has a lens three feet in diameter—the largest in the world until the forty-inch lens was made for the Yerkes Observatory near Chicago. The Knights and their ladies will go on many sidetrips from San Francisco, including the Lick Observatory excursion. The overland railroads have made remarkably low transcontinental rates for this gathering at San Francisco and the Southern Pacific will give special rates for touring all California.

One of the most pleasing sights of the gathering will be the grand parade, to be held one night between the 11th and 20th of August. It is to be the largest and most spectacular parade in history. From 12,000 to 15,000 Knights of the Uniform Rank will form the main body. The National Guard of California will act as escort. There will be in line the troops of the regular army stationed around San Francisco; the marines from the Mare Island navy yard in the harbor; the Knights of Khorasan in their gorgeous attire, innumerable civic organizations and an endless number of floats of novel designs. This gorgeous pageant will pass beneath a canopy of dazzling light along the principal thoroughfares and through the many courts of honor along the route of march.

Head of Steel Corporation Stricken Ill While Driving.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 28.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel company, while driving with his mother and sister on the speedway, was stricken ill in the carriage and was hastily driven to his home. Dr. Philip Marvel, who was called, found that the steel magnate was in no danger of a collapse, which was feared. He could not be induced to talk of the case, but at the cottage it was stated that the case was of overworked nerves, probably nervous prostration.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 28.—Friends of Rev. William E. Hinshaw, who continue to declare him innocent of the murder of his wife in Belleville in January of 1895, are hopeful of a turn in events that will clear him of the dark stain upon his life. Many are of the opinion that the mystery will be solved by the deathbed confession of the real murderer and that Mr. Hinshaw will regain his freedom.

The Absent-Minded Professor.

At a recent session of the German reichstag an absent-minded member, Herr Wichmann, created no little amusement. He was calling the roll, and upon reaching his own name he paused for a response. Naturally none came. Then he called the name more loudly, waited a few seconds, and roared it out at the top of his voice. The laughter of his colleagues finally aroused him to a sense of the ludicrousness of his act, and he joined in the general hilarity.

The kisser is one of the most ancient of Egyptian instruments. It is found represented in monuments antedating the date of Christ by 2,000 years. ## JUDGE JACKSON STANDS BY RULING

IMPEACHMENT HAS NO TERROR

Contents of Miners' Claims are True He Has Only Committed an Error of Judgment, From Which an Appeal May Be Taken.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 28.—Judge John Jay Jackson of the federal court consented to make a statement relative to the reported movement to impeach him and remove him from the bench. He thinks its object is to intimidate him and frighten him into changing his position with reference to the mine workers and to prevent any further punishment of violators of his injunction for contempt of court. "I do not know whether the report is true or not, nor do I care," said Judge Jackson. "I do not fear any proceedings of that nature, and I regard the entire matter as perfectly absurd."

"Impeach me? What for? If all their claims be true I have made an error of judgment, nothing more. A judge cannot be impeached for that. But there has been no error of judgment. My opinion speaks for itself. It is an honest opinion, backed up by forty-one years of experience on the bench, and I think it will stand. Appeal is only remedy."

"A judge can be impeached only for incompetency, corruption or something of that nature. Their only remedy is an appeal to a higher court, and they are welcome to that course if they think my opinions are unjust or illegal."

Judge Jackson showed some impatience in talking of the matter. To his close friends he is reported to have said that he rendered opinions during the civil war, when backbone was required, and that he did not propose to be diverted from his plain duty in this instance by "threats of the mine workers." He was threatened in a similar manner before, he said, when his injunctions drove Eugene Debs out of West Virginia. The talk at that time resulted in nothing, and he thinks no action will be taken now.

MONEY COMING IN.

Checks and Drafts for Assessments Are Arriving Daily.

Indianapolis, July 28.—The United Mine Workers' officials received many checks and drafts representing assessments made by locals throughout the country during the week. Secretary-Frederick Wilson reported that the entire membership is responding cheerfully to the assessment, and that the members of the organization seem to think that the convention acted wisely when it was decided upon the day of the miners, who at first averred a strike, conceded the assessment plan to be better.

"We have not taken any further steps in the matter of Judge Jackson's impeachment," said Mr. Wilson. "Nor shall we do so till the docket is cleared of the present cases. We want it understood that there is no question of politics in our proposed action, and that we are moving in the matter only that we may preserve our rights."

KILLED IN A MINE EXPLOSION

Two Men Die and Two Seriously Hurt in Indian Territory.

McCurd, I. T., July 28.—Two men were killed and two others seriously burned by an explosion of gas in one of the Sans Bois Coal Company's mines, one mile west of here. The dead: James Brown, Andrew Dazell.

The four men were in the mine, 900 feet from the opening, when the explosion occurred. It was followed a moment later by another of less force. It is presumed the gas was ignited by one of their lamps.

Brown was the son of Bennett Brown of Huntington, Ark., the southern manager of the Central Coal and Coke Company and was also a nephew of Superintendent Brown of the Sans Bois mine.

The men were engaged in placing timbers to support the roof of the mine at the time.

FIERCE STORM LEVELS CROPS.

Blows Down Grain and Unroofs Houses at Oxford, Mich.

Oxford, Mich., July 28.—The worst storm ever known in the history of Oxford swept over a strip of country reaching from Thomas to Rochester, a distance of eighteen miles. It began at 1 o'clock and lasted twenty-five minutes. In this village several houses were unroofed. The residence of Harry Humphrey, which was not quite completed, was blown to the ground. A great deal of wheat and oats is leveled. Orchards are stripped of their fruit and the losses to farmers will be great.

Rocked the Boat.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 28.—A rowboat containing Miss Verna Groves and Miss Florence Wells of Hartford City, Ind., and Philip Luley and William Hill of Fort Wayne capsized at Robinson park, in St. Joe river, seven miles north of here. It is claimed they were rocking the boat. Hill sank in fifteen feet of water and his body has not been recovered.

TRUE SOCIALISM ABLY EXPLAINED

ELOQUENT AND CONVINCING ADDRESS TO LABORING MEN.

TRUSTS A POWER FOR GOOD

Social Democrats Believe That Government Ownership is the Solution of Labor Problems.

In response to personal invitations issued to one hundred fifty laboring men and their sympathizers and to a general invitation to the public, thirty men gathered in a second-story room on West Milwaukee street on Saturday evening, to listen to arguments in favor of the Social Democratic party. This party is one of the latest political organizations but its advocates predict a brilliant future for it as the successor of Democracy.

Indeed Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee, who is the father of the new party and one of the trustees and editors of its official paper, declared confidently on Saturday evening that within eight years the Democratic party would go out of existence and there would be only two great parties the Republicans and the Social Democrats.

Mr. Berger declared that the Democratic party had been a corpse for years. It has no platform but an anti-platform and it exists only because there must be an opposition party. It stands idly by waiting for the little mistakes which the Republicans make. Within the next eight years there will be no such party for its place as the opposing political party to the Republicans will be taken by the Social Democrats. Even Mark Hanna has predicted such an occurrence.

A Masterly Address
The principal speaker of the evening was the Rev. Winfield Gaylord, a Congregationalist pastor of New London, Wis. He is a forceful, eloquent speaker and he states his arguments so clearly and logically that they carry conviction. He has a strong personal magnetism. He is not a fanatic. Indeed his entire lack of anarchistic theories did not please some of his hearers who find nurture in the cry "Down with the trusts and capitalists."

Trusts Are Natural
Neither Rev. Gaylord nor Mr. Berger nor the party which they represent advocates such a policy. In Rev. Gaylord's able address he proved that the trust is the natural outgrowth of business evolution and of man's struggle for supremacy which dates back to life in the jungle. When the day of the individual worker passed into history with the invention of labor saving machinery, a new arrangement of labor conditions was necessary. The combination of capital and trusts followed.

Trusts are natural and inevitable and men might as well quarrel with the force of gravity as with them. On the contrary they must find out how to use them. Republicans and Democrats talk about regulating the trusts and they might as well talk of regulating a Kansas cyclone. The trust as well as the individual has a right to do business for a profit and it would be unconstitutional to draw a line between the large corporations and the smaller partnership combinations of capital which exist everywhere.

Trusts Are Necessary
Bryan wants to destroy the trust but that would be unwise and impossible. The trust is the highest form of combination for production. It is a machine, a combination of convenient pieces, leaving out unnecessary labor, doing away with waste and making possible the best results with the least expenditures. They are the best piece of machinery which the world has.

Danger of Trusts
All the danger from the trust lies in private ownership which makes it possible for a few capitalists to control prices, to make slaves of the working classes while the profits go to the non-producers and the useless laborers. The solution of the trust problem, according to the speaker, is government ownership of all the trusts which control the means of production. Then the people would derive the benefit and the actual producers would receive the fruit of their products.

Basis of Socialism
This control by the people of the means of production is the basis of the social science of which the speakers of Saturday evening are exponents. Indeed Rev. Gaylord warned his hearers to be particular about their definition of socialism, to get it from a socialist and to be careful in explaining it to others. To the working man true socialism opens up a new life with larger opportunities for himself and his family. All it needs is a wise use of natural forces to make this earth a material paradise and then men will at least have the opportunity to improve the world morally.

No Room for Hatred
Tolerance, patience and intelligent study are needed. There is no room for hatred in socialism. It is based on the old class struggle for supremacy and the recognized leaders of the two classes are Mark Hanna, who represents the capitalists, and Eugene V. Debs, the leader of the working men. In closing the speaker urged the widespread distribution of socialistic literature.

Answered Questions
Mr. Berger then offered to answer any questions and the first one asked was how the party expected to get hold of the railroads. Mr. Berger said it was hard to foretell the future but it would be done by peaceable means, by the purchase of the roads if possible; if not it would come by explosion. It would be possible to take them by the right of eminent domain.

Republicans Not To Blame
He was next asked if the Republican party was not to blame for the trusts and he answered in the negative most decidedly. He said that on the contrary the trusts made the Republican party, which is the expression of the combined capitalistic power of today. The Democratic party is the expression of capital as it existed years ago before it developed. No one is to blame for the trust. It is natural and legitimate and the only question is shall the trusts rule the people or shall the people rule the trusts. Intelligence not bloodshed is needed.

Will Not Be Socialists
The answers did not please two of those present who declared that they would never be socialists unless socialism condemned the Republican party for trusts and was in favor of abolishing them. Quite a heated discussion followed.

New Political Party
Both speakers urged the social Democratic party as the solution of the labor problem and urged that organized effort be put forth in this city. Mr. Berger advised the holding of caucuses and conventions, the nomination of a county ticket and the sending of a delegate to the state convention.

To Nominate Ticket
It was voted by those present to put a Social Democratic county ticket in the field and a committee of three members was appointed to suggest names to the state central committee which will appoint a county committee to serve until the county convention.

PRESS COMMENT

Pioneer Press: "In Minnesota, for example, there is a very wide difference of opinion on the subject, and while the primary election system is generally popular, nobody has ever dreamed of making any particular form of it a test of party fealty. But it is different in Wisconsin."

"The Republican party in Wisconsin has long been under the leadership of a conspicuous group of prominent Republicans, who have come to be known there as the 'machine.' But there never was a political machine in Wisconsin so thoroughly organized, so absolute and so dictatorial as that of LaFollette. There could be no more offensive exhibition of its domineering arrogance than the insistence of the supporters of LaFollette before the convention that all Republicans who did not subscribe to the particular method of nominating candidates advocated by LaFollette and embodied in a platform declaration two years ago had no right to be regarded as Republicans; that they were disloyal to its principles and should be read out of the party."

"This was the keynote of the LaFollette campaign this year. It was this test of party fealty which was embodied in the recently adopted platform and then applied particularly to Senator Spooner. It is the main text of Chairman Bryant's address. Its whole tenor and substance is that no Republican has any claim on the confidence and support of Republicans who does not accept in spirit and letter, the new doctrines relating to the method of nominating candidates in Wisconsin, interpolated in the Republican creed by LaFollette."

"Wisconsin's greatest and most distinguished Republican statesman, the acknowledged leader of the Republican party in the United States senate, is thus ruled out of the party by these small politicians, unless he shall get down on his knees before this new brass god of their idolatry and accept with unquestioning subservience their crude and callow view on an entirely new question in local politics as an infallible article of political faith."
